

Homework / Notes

Your Name

Fall 2026

1 Notes

Problem 1.1 (State whether the following are commutative) $*$ defined on $\mathbb{Z}$ by letting $(a * b) = a - b$.
*We first see that $a * b$ takes a unique value, which is obvious.*

Then, we see that $a, b \in \mathbb{Z} \rightarrow a - b \in \mathbb{Z}$, so it is k